

About BoyApe

Decades ago, the pack of Primordial Humans, members of a secret society consisting of the direct descendants of the Ape Genesis, were summoned. At that time, the existence of the Monkey was threatened. The Witches Collective, a notorious clan of exterminators, gathers in orbit high above the planet. Witches determined to destroy the Apes and rule their world for an outpost. The Early Humans were some of the greatest minds of the Apes. They knew that defeating the Witch would require something extraordinary. The Ancient Humans came together with the same goal: to create LMW Hyaluronic Acid. This LMW potion will alter the Apes on a genetic level and grant them such physical and intellectual strength that they can defeat the Witch Collective. War is near. Destruction is inevitable. Death is wide

The Apes beat the Witches Collective, but victory comes at a price. While successful in its genetic alteration, LMW Hyaluronic Acid has side effects. It created significant physical changes in the Apes and, in the new lineage that came to be known as the Profound Apes. At first, Monkey Magic was interesting and fun. But over time, they are shunned by society because of their changing appearance. Some mutants celebrate their differences, but others are set to return to their pre-serum state. Conic happened. The Ancient Humans had witnessed the power that LMW Hyaluronic Acid exerted, now they were witnessing the conflict it could cause within the Ape family. Early Man realized that often perfection lies in imperfection. Worried about the future of all the Apes, they took action. The key component in the manufacture of LMW Hyaluronic Acid is Astatine Crystal. In a secret ceremony, the Ancient Man shattered the crystal into seven pieces. These fragments are later found in dangerous locations across the planet, an attempt to prevent anyone from returning seven more fragments, an attempt to dispose of LMW Hyaluronic Acid forever. For generations, efforts were made to find these seven crystal fragments. Many died in their attempts, but few succeeded. Six of the crystals were found, and rumors spread throughout the planet that the seventh and final crystal had been found. Anticipation spreads. hatred grows.

Astatine Crystal Call. It's intact once again. The mutant apes gather for The Ascendancy. Many hope to reach their highest version, while others hope to return to the way they were. The future is here. Are you ready?

The Apes Magic Community is being formed. Embrace the power of individuality and inclusivity. Celebrating individual differences, finding common ground, and uniting in unity.

assembled package.

The Pack has assembled and continues to get stronger. Being a member of the Apes is highly coveted. Benefits of pack membership transcend into both virtual and real-life collaborations, merchandise, social events, commercial rights,

The Boy Apes final form has yet to be revealed. The LMW Hyaluronic has been reconstructed and will be distributed to those who desire. The only thing that is certain is no one knows what will happen next.